Upon completion of the 2022 Strategic Plan, goals and objectives were outlined for the museum and its work to enrich the community through the visual arts. The main areas of focus include the arts, access, attraction, and administration.

One of our first areas of focus will be our building and the immediate need to preserve its history and splendor, along with the artwork showcased within its walls. Portions of the roof continue to leak and cause internal damage. We must replace these parts of the roof as soon as possible. Professionals with a focus on preservation will begin this work very soon.

Renovation plans for our downstairs area have also ensued. AMOA will make the space more inclusive and accessible for all children. Once fully conceptualized and funded, the new layout and programs will help our community grow in culture, creativity, educational offerings, future artistic expression, and visitation.

Our children need a space where they can feel safe, where creativity can be fostered, and where learning can take place. Art programming develops patience, persistence, higher-level thinking skills, imagination, self-expression, and self-esteem. Through the arts, students are pushed to communicate, collaborate, and use critical thinking. These skills are necessary for all career pursuits. The arts are an essential aspect of human society and culture and engaging with the arts makes the world larger and richer.

Information on these projects will be forthcoming. This is the future of the museum, and we cannot get there without you. We appreciate your continued support!

SEPT

Inspiration

Who or what is your inspiration?

We want to know who or what inspires you! Participants may enter into one or both categories.

Category 1

Category one is a traditional call for artists. Artists may enter one work of art with an attached story or description about how or why this work of art depicts what inspires them. Open to all mediums. Awards will be given.

Category 2

Open to everyone. We are looking for an image and a short story to share who or what inspires you. Signs will be made with the image and story and displayed in our front yard and downtown Anderson as a walking exhibition.

To learn more about this entire exhibit please visit www.andersonart.org/inspiration or by scanning the QR code with your phone or tablet.
